

Division of McKesson Healthcare, Inc.

August 25, 2009

To Whom It May Concern:

RelayHealth, a division of McKesson Healthcare, recently engaged Gevo Associates, Inc. for a Marketing project. Despite a very short notice, the firm responded quickly and was able to complete the project within our timeframe.

The project involved market research along several lines including product, service and market perception. The original scope was expanded mid-project and Mr. Gevo quickly adapted to our new requirements. The firm's knowledge of the Market segments, sales and marketing processes, and Healthcare Automation in general made for a very nice fit with our objectives, and quick ramp up. The resultant product provided to our team followed our format and was more extensive than we had hoped for. All requested data, plus a great deal of additional materials, were incorporated into a very easy to use format that exceeded our original scope.

I found Gevo Associates very easy to work with and am very pleased with the value their firm provided to me.

Sincerely,

David Dyke
